Q: How can we get better at being awake?
A: by actually caring!

Equipment to be better at being awake

Before you start your training, you need some proper sleep equipment. Luckily we have some products, tech and accessories for that.

Science behind the weighted blanket

It is a blanket with a therapeutic effect, which, as the name suggests, is many times heavier than a regular blanket. A weighted blanket for adults usually weighs about 7-9 kg. Weighted blanket is relaxing, reduces anxiety and stress, and thereby helps to fall asleep faster.

Our sleep quality has a huge impact on what we are when we wake up and how we cope with our daily lives. A really one sleepless night is devastating for our body and it is impossible to restore. A weighted blanket relieves sleep disorders, helps the body and mind to relax, and reduces stress and anxiety.

The delicate pressure on the body promotes the production of happiness and satisfaction hormones melatonin and serotonin, which helps you to calm and fall asleep faster.
